Oregon Flood Is Sweeping to Sea; Two Are Drowned

Portland, Ore., Oct. 30 (AP)—Storm swollen rivers that drove 2,000 persons from their Southern Oregon mountain valley homes spilled seaward today. Their crests threatened new flooding of downstream lowlands.

Two persons have drowned and one man is missing in the week-end flooding. Scores of Oregon-California borderland towns and cities are isolated. Many rural families are marooned.

The rivers burst their banks early Sunday when an overnight deluge dumped 3 to 4 inches of rain into headwaters of streams swollen by four previous days of Pacific-bred storms.

Oregon National Guardsmen were on duty at stricken Myrtle Creek and on alert orders at Roseburg.

Oregon National Guardsmen were on duty at stricken Myrtle Creek and on alert orders at Roseburg.

1,000 Are Sheltered

Red Cross flood relief volunteers sheltered about 1,000 last night in the Eugene, Ore., area where Sheriff Tom Swarts had issued a general evacuation order for all Willamette river lowlands in Lane county. Some were taken from their homes in rowboats to shelters in nearby Springfield and Eugene.

Another 1,000—perhaps more—the Red Cross said—had scattered yesterday to higher ground along the Umpqua river valley. The Red Cross at Roseburg, Ore., center of the stricken sector, said there had been housed at Winston, at isolated Myrtle Creek and in Roseburg.

Emergency Declared

Roseburg's plight was declared a flood emergency by the Red Cross and supplies and staff aides were rushed there from other west coast cities.

The city of Grants Pass was isolated but there was no evacuation reported there.

Rescued City, Calif., was isolated Sunday and passengers of four buses and over 100 cars were stranded there. A parachute drop was planned today to (Continued on Page 15, Col. 5)

Hundreds Join Search for Hunter; Comes From Wood

Wurtsboro, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—A 25-year-old hunter was lost in the Catskill Mountains for several hours last night.

One hundred volunteers led by state troopers searched for four hours for the hunter, Joseph Caruso, of Woodbourne, who later was found walking on a highway at 10:30 p. m.

The volunteers had been recalled at 10 p. m. because the troopers feared some of them would become lost in a densening fog.

State troopers had planned to resume the search early today with bloodhounds and a plane.

The state police barracks here reported that Caruso was found walking on Route 209 near Summitville.

The search started after Caruso's brother-in-law, George Simpson, of Summitville, reported Caruso failed to meet him at 5 p. m. yesterday at a point on a logging road, as arranged when they started hunting and separated at 4 p. m. They were after partridge and rabbits.

The searchers were organized by Troopers Edward Shannon and John Illage of the Wurtsboro state police barracks.

Big Record Vote May Be Cast Nov. 7

Party Chairmen Report 42,000,000 Persons Might Go to Polls in Nation

Is Below Potential

Eligibles in U. S. Total 69,954,478, Declare Officials

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—High registration in many key northern states and several in the south led state officials and party chairmen today to predict a total vote on Nov. 7 of better than 42,000,000.

That would be a record for a non-presidential election.

These same sources, using official registrations in a few and estimates in most states, place the number of persons eligible to vote this year at 69,954,478, a record.

That state-by-state vote forecast, qualified in many instances and admittedly based on guesses in others, comes out 42,235,632. The odd digits are due to inclusion of the official vote of 237,632 cast in Maine Sept. 11 for House candidates.

Exceeded Totals

Incidentally, the Maine vote for Governor and House nominees exceeded those totals in the presidential year 1948, and came after what some party leaders said was a rather apathetic campaign.

The potential voter-eligibles—persons 21 and over—is estimated by the census bureau 596,753,000 as of July 1, 1950. The actual vote is always far below this figure.

While the 42,000,000 vote estimate seems high to many political experts, the Democratic National Committee says unofficially it looks for a vote far above the previous mid-term record of 37,304,380 cast in 1938, if the turnout this year is normal in proportion to population growth.

Also, the C.I.O. Political Action Committee says a vote of more than 40,000,000 is indicated if measured by one formula and close to 48,000,000 if gauged by another.

Was 35,874,568 in 1946

The total vote in the last off-year, 1946, counting the highest vote in each state for governor, senator or all house candidates was 35,874,568. This was an increase of 5,649,641 over 1942, but 1,428,812 under the 1938 record for materials.

The record presidential vote was 49,820,512 in 1940. In 1948 it was 48,833,680.

The estimated registration of 69,954,478 this year compares with 66,811,617 for the last presidential election, and 59,669,565 in 1946.

Record in New York

New York reports an actual registration of 6,432,865, a record for a gubernatorial year. The previous high was 6,008,837 in 1946. The best for a presidential year was 7,044,676 in 1948. New York city's registration this time is 2,806,448, an increase of 93,039 over 1946, but about half a million less than 1948.

Pennsylvania reports 4,925,240 registered, including 2,913,101 (Continued on Page 13, Col. 7)

Six Gifts Provide Aid for Hospital Expansion Fund

The cardiography room, a nurses' station, a private room and three beds in four-bed rooms in the enlarged Kingston Hospital will be made possible by six subscriptions totaling $15,600. The latest additions to the $850,000 fund for expansion and modernization of the hospital were made public today by Allan L. Hanstein, chairman of the memorial gifts committee.

Alva S. Staples has subscribed $5,100 to establish the cardiography room, to be located on the first floor of the new east wing, as a memorial to his sister, Anne Staples Tremper.

A private room with lavatory on the fourth floor will be dedicated to the memory of Delaney N. Matthews by his daughter, Miss Bertha Matthews, of Richmond Park, whose gift of $4,200 will be used, at her request, to build and equip this room.

Three Are Killed

At least three Nationalists were killed in the clashes on the south coast, and police announced two were slain at Arecibo.

About a mile from Ponce, a police corporal was shot and killed by a group of men in an automobile. The assailants abandoned the car, containing bombs and ammunition, and fled on foot.

Later last week police had been alerted to the possibility of violence after four men in San Juan were found in possession of arms and ammunition.

The four were turned over to internal security agents last week and unofficial sources said the U. S. Federal Bureau of Investigation was called in.

Business Firms Participate

Business firms, as well as individuals and families, are devoting their contributions to the construction of particular parts of the hospital. Weber and Walter, Inc., has subscribed $1,800 which will cover the cost of building and equipping a nurses' station in the reconstruction of the present building. A subscription of $1,500 by the Silver Reef Company will provide for a bed in a four-bed room.

C. S. Rowland, chairman of the corporations committee for the building fund, through which these company subscriptions were obtained, said today that the memorial plan has proven of particular interest to the businessmen approached by his committee.

Lynch Avoids Governor, Refuses Face-to-Face Talk

A state trooper, a game warden, a deputy sheriff and a town constable went out Saturday night to check a report that someone was "jacklighting" deer and ended up by placing a man under arrest on a burglary charge.

They stopped one automobile, and, although its occupant was not implicated in the reported jacklighting, Trooper Dunn said his answers to questions gave the trooper information which led to his arrest at Chichester on a burglary, third degree charge.

The trooper arrested Leland Haas, 24, of Schenectady and California, and booked him on the burglary charge. Trooper Dunn claimed Haas was implicated in burglaries on Wednesday at the Phenicia Manufacturing Corporation and the J. L. McGrath store and on Friday at the Simpson store, all in Phenicia.

Haas will be given a hearing on the charge at 2:30 p. m. today before Justice of the Peace William Brannen in Woodstock.

Dunn said the three Phenicia places were entered and small amounts of money taken.

Dewey Gives Him 'Information' on Bank Deposit Insurance

New York, Oct. 30 (AP)—The two major rivals for the governorship, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Rep. Walter A. Lynch, were on the same television program last night but avoided meeting face-to-face.

Lynch, the Democratic-Liberal candidate, spoke first from prepared notes while Dewey watched him on a TV screen in another room at the WPIX studio.

Then Lynch left, and Dewey, the Republican nominee, came in through another corridor and took over the same desk for an extemporaneous answer. Each spoke for 14 minutes.

Dewey said later he had been willing to meet Lynch in a question and answer session. The station said it had suggested this but that Lynch preferred to make a separate talk.

Yaras' Case Is Changed to Ulster

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—Justice Kenneth S. MacAffer of State Supreme Court today ordered the perjury trial of Coplan Yaras, Albany attorney, transferred to Ulster county.

Justice MacAffer set trial for the term beginning Dec. 1.

Yaras was indicted Oct. 3 on a charge of first-degree perjury in connection with the filing of real estate tax protest forms. He pleaded innocent.

Yaras applied for the change of venue on the ground he would not receive a fair trial in Albany county.

He is accused of making false statements under oath when he applied for reduction of the 1949 assessment on three pieces of property. According to the indictments, he stated that an improvement had been made after he acquired the property. The indictments say that improvements totaling more than $28,000 were made in 1948.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 30 (AP)—Stocks started a new week on a rising note in today's market, but the move didn't extend very far.

Most of the impetus for the advance came from steel shares which encountered early demand. Some of the motors and oils accompanied steels on the upward push. Utilities and rails were largely neglected.

Dealings soon quieted, and the market rested on a slightly higher level in the absence of strong pressure in either direction.

Gains of less than $1 a share were in the majority, with a sprinkling of losses also dotted the list. Many issues were below the tops reached in early trading.

The modest advance nevertheless marked an extension of the recovery that got under way late last week after sharp selling drives Thursday had given stocks a severe tumble.

Holding much of their gains were such stocks as U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel, Standard Oil (N.J.), Texas Co., Chrysler, Caterpillar Tractor, General Electric, Schenley, Zenith Radio, Radio Corp., Kennecott Copper, McIntyre-Porcupine and Union Carbide.

Lower ground were Montgomery Ward, Studebaker, Argonne, Copper, Johns-Manville, J. I. Case and Allied Chemical.

Lower prices were recorded for Aluminum Co. of America, Cecile Petroleum, Cities Service and Canadian Marconi.

SAY SOMETHING GOOD

When you talk about your neighbor
Speak a word or two of praise
Do a bit of vocal labor
And you'll find it always pays.

Often times the things you mention
May be friendly bits of news
And if they receive attention
There is nothing you can lose.
Just suppose your conversation
Falls upon your neighbor's ear
It may lend a true elation
When he needs a word of cheer.

Words that build are always needed
And we ought to use them well...
Like a plot that's richly seeded
To their goodness they excel.
When you speak about another
Just be sure it's something good
Treat your neighbor like a brother
Use the words you know you should.

Schwenk Explains Proposition No. 1

John J. Schwenk, former alderman-at-large, in recent addresses before the Junior League, the Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 7 and the Kingston Taxpayers' League, explained Proposition No. 1, which will be presented to the voters on a paper ballot on Election Day.

Mr. Schwenk spoke in part as follows:

On November 7 when you go to vote, you will be presented with a paper ballot, known as Proposition No. 1, which states: "Shall the Mayor of the city of Kingston continue to appoint the members of the Board of Education of the city school district of such city?"

If you believe that the mayor should continue to appoint the members of the board of education, you mark an X in the square opposite YES. If you believe as I do, that the members of the board of education, as required by the new state education law, should be elected, you mark an X in the square opposite NO.

I am sure you are confronted with the same question that confronted me. It is necessary to vote on this question when the mayor has always had that power. The purpose of my talk tonight is to answer that question.

When the towns of the state of New York were divided into common school districts back in 1812, there were only four cities in existence. These cities were left to their own devices in the matter of common schools. During the nineteenth century, the bulk of our sixty-two cities were incorporated and in most cases the city charters contained some of the provisions for the education system. As time passed, discrepancies and variety in regard to city-school systems became more and more prevalent.

In 1907, a committee appointed by Frank G. Moore, as comptroller of the state of New York, to review the limitations imposed by our state constitution upon the taxing and borrowing powers of municipalities and to study city-school fiscal relations, concluded that fiscal independence and fiscal responsibility are inseparable; that fiscal independence without fiscal responsibility can lead only to extravagance and waste. The committee described a fiscally independent and responsible school district as one having as its governing body a board of education, elected by the qualified voters of the school district and through its board of education, having full responsibility for as well as control over the local administration of the school districts' current fiscal affairs.

In line with these recommendations, the legal staff of the state education department, prepared a revision of the state education law, which was adopted by the Legislature this year. This new education law has as its primary aim:

1. The elimination of the numerous variations in city school government.
2. To provide for the city-school district's fiscal independence and fiscal responsibility.
3. The divorcing of the city from the city-school district completely.

One of the members of the committee described it as a complete divorce between city and city school district, with no alimony and the school district getting custody of the children.

This new state education law provides that officials entrusted with city-school government must be directly responsible to the voters through the ballot. The school district, through its board of education, shall have full responsibility for, as well as control over, the local administration of the school district's current fiscal affairs. The annual school budget shall be prepared and adopted by the board of education and shall not be subject to approval by the municipal authorities. The board of education will disburse all school district monies.

Now, under the present law it may not be objectionable for the mayor to appoint the school board members, but under the new state education law which will become effective next year, it would be just as undesirable to have the mayor appoint the common council members as it is to have the mayor appoint the school board members, the loser in such a proceeding, is the voter, who completely relinquishes his control over his government which the ballot contains. It was, therefore, the thought of the people who worked on the new city school law revision to eliminate entirely all appointive boards. Unfortunately, however, an amendment was added to the new state education law, providing for certain city school districts to take steps to continue the appointive boards.

This amendment, a special act applicable to only a very few cities, prescribes certain steps that these cities may take to continue the appointment by the mayor of the members of the board of education. One of the purposes of the new state education law was to eliminate special acts and variations pertaining to education in certain cities and to bring about a uniform city school law.

Since the new state education law confers broad powers upon boards of education and requires that they be elected so that they may operate and manage their schools as the residents desire, it would appear to me, that the wise course for the people to take, would be to defeat Proposition No. 1.

By voting NO, it would not mean that the people would have to elect an entirely new board of education. The law provides that appointed members of existing boards shall continue in office until the expiration of their terms, when they would be succeeded by the elected members. All of the present members of the board of education would be eligible to run for election.

In every town in the State of New York and in 34 city-school districts, the members of the school boards are elected by the people and there are many examples of outstanding public service and unselfish devotion to educational requirements demonstrated by these elected school trustees. Throughout the country 85 per cent of the school board members are elected by the people.

Experience has proven that the election of school board members has resulted in greater citizen participation in school matters, stimulates community thinking and educates the residents in their school's functions and needs.

Is it because one would flinch at the thought of having his notions, his motives, his character, misunderstood by his friends or the public, that prompts him to say, "The right people would not run for the office." I am sure a genuine citizen will wisely conclude that the pie-picks in an election campaign is a small price to pay to help preserve the freedoms of this country compared with what our young men and women have had to endure in war, and are enduring in war this very day. Many of these men and women face death, agony, mental torture, strenuous days of toil and deprivation, away from loved ones, away from the comforts of home.

Qualifications needed to make good school board members are not too difficult to meet: An adequate educational background of course, but also a genuine interest and the willingness to study community needs. A good school board member must be willing to take a stand for better educational facilities, even though pressure and unfair criticism may sometimes result. The housewife, storekeeper, industrial worker, bank president and many others may qualify.

The New York Education Law wisely provides for the board members to be chosen at a special election, thereby assuring the election of good qualified men and women. If the election were to be held in the general election, the identity of the candidates might easily be lost in the shuffle, thereby making it possible for less capable men to be elected to the board. Candidates would be named by petition of citizens and would not necessarily run as candidates of a political party.

In this country, we believe that democracy is the most acceptable form of government, and history has proven that it gives our people liberty and unity and prosperity for surpassing what is found in any other country on earth. You, by your actions and example, hold the future of democracy in your own hands. Only so far as you are interested and informed in the workings of our government, whether it be school or general, can it be efficient and workable.

OPEN LETTER TO A CLOSED MIND

Marshal Tito Government Palace Belgrade, Yugoslavia

Dear Sir:

The other day, according to a dispatch from Belgrade, you abolished all special privileges enjoyed by Communist officials as regards food, housing and services. For the first time in history, your spokesman was quoted as saying, "the rulers and the people were going to be treated exactly alike."

This piece of news, Your Excellency, hit me where I speculate, and so I moseyed down to the Public Library this morning to see whether you really rate the No. 1 spot on the all-time Split Parade. And the answer, as I researched it, is that (a) you're a dozen centuries late, and (b) if history means anything, you're a cinch to fall flat on your postulate. Here are the pertinent precedents:

Back in the 8th Century, the ruler of Tibet, a sharp-conscienceed gent named Muni Tsan-po, decreed that the wealth of his country be divided up among the people, share-and-share-alike. A few years later, however, when Muni (no relation to Paul) took a turn around his baldeck to see how the plan was working, he found that in almost every case the rich had regained their riches and the poor their poverty.

Twice more he reshuffled the wealth, but when the results were the same he finally abandoned the notion and decided to devote the rest of his life to prayer—the lion, so to speak, turned into a lamba.

The same thing, according to the record, has happened dozens of times in this country during the past 150 years. In 1825 an idealistic gent named Robert Owen set up an egalitarian community in New Harmony, Indiana, and—aw! it took on some years later because of friction between the haves and the would-be-to-be's. Then there was the Perfectionist colony in Oneida, N. Y., and Fourier's Brook Farm in Massachusetts, not to mention Joseph Bonnier's settlement in Zanzibar, where everyone over 16 was invited to quit work and consume "a reasonable amount of beer and cider" at the communal tavern each day.

This last Utopia, it may interest you to know, came apart at the comradeship seams because certain of its citizens surreptitiously opened bank accounts in Cincinnati and were caught smuggling in bottles of bourbon.

You can argue, of course, that these experiments don't count because they took place in the capitalistic West, but I think I can show you that geography doesn't enter into it with a final example.

Some years ago the people of a certain country gave the huns a rush to their rulers and set up a government in which everyone was to be treated equally. Fifteen years later, however, a compilation of figures released by this government indicated that 15 per cent of the population was consuming as much as the other 85 per cent. Certain "specialists" and "technicians" were gaining a hundred times as much as common labor, and in addition special "large" shops had been set up for wealthy bureaucrats and a per-time and cosmetic industry for their wares.

The country's "chattering" of course, is Soviet Russia and the above inquiries came about soon after the "Stalin" party, peace-work system was introduced in 1935. Yes, indeed, as it may seem, only 15 years after the revolution there was a greater gap between top and bottom wage levels in Communist Russia than there had ever been in Capitalist America.

Am I setting forth all these grim statistics to prove the over-worked cliché that you can't change human nature? Not at all. I've seen human nature overhauled more than once in the last half-century. However, if you'd pardon the presumption, I am trying to point out to your Excellency that no matter how you juggle human nature you can't eliminate it entirely.

Sincerely,
BILLY ROSE

NOTED THROAT SPECIALISTS REPORT ON 30-DAY TEST OF CAMEL SMOKERS...

Not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking CAMELS

Yes, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels—and only Camels—for 30 consecutive days.

"My throat sure gets a workout, so it's easy to see why I smoke the mild cigarette...CAMEL!"

PETER LIND HAYES Star of stage and television

"MY DAILY schedule of shows and rehearsals puts a lot of strain on my voice—so mildness is very important to me. My cigarette is Camel. The 30-Day Mildness Test proved Camels agree with my throat! "The 30-Day Camel Test is the sensible test, I might add. No tricks. I didn't have to decide on one puff or one sniff—a quick inhale or exhale. I took my time and enjoyed Camel's fine flavor day after day... for 30 days. And, believe me, I found out for sure just how mild and good tasting a cigarette can be! It's no wonder to me that more people smoke Camels than any other cigarette."

Make your own 30-Day Camel MILDNESS Test in your "T-ZONE" (T for Throat...T for Taste)!

MAN OF A "THOUSAND VOICES"—many more, but fainter of comic roles—Peter Lind Hayes even adds popular song recordings to his vocal repertoire. Radio, night clubs and movies keep this showman stage-hopping from coast to coast.

MORE PEOPLE SMOKE CAMELS than any other cigarette!

THE DEWEY ADMINISTRATION

The Republican administration has recognized in many concrete ways the fact that children are the state's greatest asset. It has done much to further their education and health, to prevent their exploitation, to remove the causes of delinquency.

In 1950 Governor Dewey appointed the New York State Citizen's Committee of 100 for Children and Youth to make the most comprehensive survey of child life in New York State ever undertaken. The committee is now conducting twenty-seven study projects, with 400 child specialists from public and voluntary agencies, to determine the present status of New York State's 4,000,000 children to identify the unmet needs of children and to make recommendations for improving the health and welfare of children.

All through World War II the state carried on an extensive program for the care of children of working mothers. At the end of 1945, approximately 8,000 children were being cared for in 200 units throughout the state. When federal funds for day care operation were withdrawn March 1, 1946, many states terminated their programs. But New York did not. The program was extended for a year to cover the post-war readjustment period when many mothers were continuing to work.

Today dependent, neglected, destitute and delinquent children in New York State are receiving more and better special services, counseling and care from local child welfare workers than ever before. The number of such child specialists in New York State has reached a peak of 700.

State aid for blind and deaf pupils attending a college, university, technical or professional school was increased in 1946 and again in 1949 to help such pupils meet increasing costs.

The Special Committee on Social Welfare of the Legislature studied the foster care of children in New York State in 1946 and 1947 and recommendations of the committee, enacted into law, made possible improved care of these children, who number more than 40,000.

The problem of the so-called black market in adoption of babies was attacked in 1949 by a series of new laws which curb illegal adoptions.

The problem of cerebral palsy is being vigorously attacked.

The average monthly grant for families in the aid-to-dependent children program has been increased from $50.36 in 1942 to $103.32.

Under the Youth Commission appointed by Governor Dewey in 1945 there is a definite and consistent program of prevention and treatment of juvenile delinquents.

HALLOWEEN

With the annual appearance of the goblins and ghosts scheduled for Tuesday night here in Kingston and other localities throughout the country, another appeal has been made to the young masqueraders to have fun on Halloween but to make sure it is good, clean fun.

One of the finest ways to enjoy a safe night without injury to themselves or damage to the property of others is for the children to attend the annual Halloween program at the municipal auditorium.

A fine program of events including a costume parade led by the Port Ewen Drum Corps and the '40 & 8 locomotive, has been planned for the children's enjoyment as well as for the parents and other grown-ups who will accompany them.

Police Chief Raymond Van Buren also has appealed to the youth of the city to have "good clean fun" Halloween night and to refrain from doing wanton and malicious acts which used to characterize the night of goblins.

With the cooperation of the parents this Halloween should be free from all malicious and destructive mischief. The children should be so warned that destruction of property—marking business places, soaping windows of homes, stores and automobiles—is a strict violation of the law and is punishable.

THOMAS ON FEARS

Senator Elbert D. Thomas of Utah is a learned man and has written five books. Among them are: "Sukui No Michi" (in Japanese), "Chinese Political Thought," "The Four Fears." It is to "The Four Fears," dated 1944, that we shall devote ourselves.

The four fears are: 1. The fear of ontangling alliances; 2. The fear of England; 3. The fear of Russia; 4. The fear of revolution. As a member of the La Follette committee, run by John Abt, Charles Kramer, Lee Pressman and others of Communist associations, he was without these fears.

On Page 60 of this book, Senator Thomas says: "... All close students of developments in Russia agree that she has given up her early hopes of world-wide revolution in favor of a single Russian Communist state, and that in every respect her first frenzy for the extreme forms of communism has longed down."

That was not true in 1944; it is not true in 1950. I recall precisely what close students of Russian affairs Senator Thomas had in mind. He gives no names, so it is impossible to check his sources. Of these unmentioned "close students" Senator Thomas says:

"... They point to Stalin's own clear victory over his comrades who refused to confine their aims to Russia; they accept as genuine the abolition of the Comintern; they show Russia's softened attitude toward religion and her stricter laws governing the family and birth control. As we know in 1950 that that was not true in 1944. The Comintern showed up in 1945; Togliatti in Italy, Tito in Yugoslavia, Pauker in Rumania, Delelos in France, Mao Tse-tung in China, and so on over the world. And soon it was all organized under a new name, the 'Cominform.' Also, Stalin did not limit his aims to Russia. In November, 1948, at Teyhran, he made it clear to Roosevelt and Churchill that he had extensive aims in Europe. Undoubtedly no one told Senator Thomas about that, although he could have read about it, at the time, in this column in 'The Desert News.'"

Senator Thomas in this grand defense of Russia in this chapter, says:
"She has a population of over two hundred million. Her industrialization, still incomplete at the outbreak of the war, will have to be started over again from scratch, with the possible exception of the plants beyond the Urals. She will have to rebuild her cities, hundreds of villages, her roads. There can be no doubt in 1950 that all this is necessary and was necessary in 1944. Actually, Soviet Russia has pushed steel production beyond anything any pro-Russian optimist believed possible, and she has developed an atomic industry which menaces us. (She stole our bomb before Senator Thomas wrote his book.) Actually, she has been able to finance and equip war in China, Korea and French Indo-China, and who knows where next?"

After a prolonged but specious argument, the senator comes up with this conclusion:
"... Three great revolutions have been going on at once, and it is their coming together at a more or less single point in time that will force us, whatever we may feel, to meet them. It will be with the intelligence and bravery worthy of our revolutionary tradition, we shall all win together. If we resist them, they are sure to defeat us. The great centuries in the history of man were all revolutionary centuries, and each has left lasting effects upon civilization."

I have room for one more quotation:
"I feel very certain that the anti-Russian forces throughout the world are still strong, and they will make every attempt to discredit Russia, to throw doubt on her motives and intentions, and to make Americans, especially, believe that Russia is the most to be feared of all powers. They will work on our continued ignorance of her and our dislike for communism. They will make us believe that the Russians have deep-laid plans to rule the world, to change all governments by force, to absorb all Europe."

Do you, then, believe that in 1950? If so, then Stalin's whole position is justified and the United States is a war criminal. Which is it, senator? Were you off the beam or have our boys died in Korea in pursuit of imperialism? It's up to you, senator! (Copyright, 1950, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

EARLY SIGNS POINTING TO NEUROSIS

When an individual thinks he has an ailment, and no ailment exists, we call him a neurotic. If he thinks he has heart disease he is called a cardiac (heart) neurotic, if stomach diseases — a gastric neurotic, and so on as to lungs, blood pressure, and other diseases.

If the physician and family watch the neurotic carefully, Dr. Louis G. Moench, Salt Lake Clinic, Salt Lake, Utah, in Clinical Medicine, suggests that they will notice early symptoms pointing to neurosis. While Dr. Moench mentions 24 symptoms which lead to suspicion, not a diagnosis, of neurosis, we have only space for some of the commonest which may make us think we are all more or less neurotic.

1. Excessive or unusual fears or worries (such as fear of being alone).
2. Indecision, confusion, inability to make up one's mind.
3. Inability to find happiness in ordinary living.
4. Poor work or school record, or repeated change of job and residence.
5. Excessive shyness, oversensitiveness or rage.
6. Alcoholism (excessive) or excessive smoking, or the use of sleeping pills.
7. Sexual concern.
8. Repetition of the same disturbing actions or thoughts.
9. Depression or discouragement at ordinary life events.
10. Excessive enthusiasm or other emotion at ordinary life events.
11. Nervousness, dizziness, trembling, sweating of hands and feet.
12. Lifelong history of headache or fainting.
13. Long medical history, many doctors, rare diseases, unusual response to drugs or other treatments, and "almost died several times."
14. Repeated surgical operations.
15. Repeated accidents.
16. Difficulty getting breath, lump in throat, or sighing breathing.
17. Pains in and around the heart, rapid heart, or skipping heart, especially at rest.
18. Weakness, fatigue, tiredness after a night's sleep; sleeplessness.
19. Fits (twitchings), asthma, eczema, hives.
20. Pins and needles all over the body, especially in eyes, back, head.
21. Poor or excessive appetite: Marked overweight or thinness.
22. Constipation, diarrhea, stomach trouble, indigestion, gas, belching.
23. Great number and variety of symptoms and complaints.

Neurosis

Believing you have a physical ailment when none exists is a neurosis and is becoming increasingly common. Write for Dr. Barton's informative booklet on this subject entitled "Neurosis." To obtain it, send 10 cents and a 3-cent stamp, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y., and ask for your copy.

Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Let's all help to make this Halloween a safe night and one way to do this is to join the fun Tuesday night at the municipal auditorium.

Now to Finish the Job

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Out in rock-ribbed Republican Iowa a lot of folks don't know much more about Democrats than a hog does about Sunday. But this year the Democrats are throwing a slight scare into the Republicans, and here are three factors helping them to do it:

1. "Old Hector" whiskey.
2. P-60 anti-freeze.
3. A bona fide dirt farmer running for the Senate on the Democratic ticket.

The bona fide farmer is Al Loveland, who can't make a speech much better than a rooster can lay an egg. But he served in the U. S. Department of Agriculture as undersecretary, knows about half the farmers in Iowa, and has uncovered the rather important fact that his opponent, GOP Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper, attended only one out of six meetings of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

As a result, Loveland has been effectively asking Iowa voters: "Would you hire a hand who came to work one day out of six?"

Instead of attending meetings of the Agriculture Committee, Senator Hickenlooper had let the head-popping probes first of the Atomic Energy Commission, then of the State Department.

The probe of the Atomic Energy Commission backfired badly, partly because the former editor of the Des Moines Register-Tribune, W. W. Waymack, was then a member of the commission and people in Iowa knew he wouldn't stand for atomic secrets; partly because every atomic leak so far has been nailed on the arm. Not a single leak has been nailed to the civilian-controlled commission that Hickenlooper made so many charges against.

Hound-Dog Hickenlooper's probe of the State Department, in which he followed in the footsteps of grand-standing Joe McCarthy, looked as if it would pay better political dividends. Everyone pointed to his big primary majority and said: "At least Bourke's hound-dogging has been rewarded."

But now folks are inclined to figure that a State Department which acted so forthrightly in Korea couldn't have harbored many Communists, and that may be Hound-Dog Hickenlooper got hold of a scent that was about five years old.

Hickenlooper will probably win in November. The normal GOP margin in Iowa seems fairly certain to carry him through. But he isn't being helped any by two other developments. These are:

The Republican-controlled State Liquor Commission loaded itself up with a lot of "Old Hector" whiskey, aged three years, when it could have bought bonded whiskey, guaranteed by the federal government to be four years old at almost the same price. Why the GOP commissioners went for Old Hector instead of the better grade is a question the Democrats want answered. So far none has been forthcoming.

2) Iowa's GOP secretary of agriculture, Clyde Spry, approved the purchase of an anti-freeze for trucks despite the fact that Iowa State College warned that this brand of anti-freeze—P-60—contained salt and would ruin engines. The U. S. Bureau of Standards in Washington also refused to OK P-60 anti-freeze, but GOP Secretary Spry OK'd P-60 just the same. The Democrats now want to know why.

In fact, Lester Gillette, Democratic candidate for governor, goes further than this.

"It would be better," he said, "to put Old Hector whiskey in our radiators and drink the P-60."

Friendship Builders United

Last year, a group of young Austrians visited the United States—some under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce—to build friendship between the United States and Europe. This year, however, the friendship program is being halted at Ellis Island thanks to the new McCarran Act.

What Congress apparently did not realize when it rushed the McCarran bill over the White House veto was that it would bar some of our best friends in Europe—among them Ernst Reuter, the hero mayor of West Berlin. Reuter has consistently resisted Soviet attempts to penetrate the allied area, and in 1919 he was a Communist. And though he has long since reformed, he is automatically barred from the U. S. A. under the McCarran bill.

Lewis Reuter, the young Austrian who, like every Austrian, at one time automatically was a member of the Nazi party. Fortright Senator Langer of North Dakota recently called this to the attention of the White House.

"As you know," Langer wrote the President, "all persons in Germany and Austria were required to belong to such groups, and school children were naturally included. As a result, some of the students in the four years before they entered this country, despite the fact they were thoroughly screened by American consulates in Austria. In these days when we are trying to get an example to the world of our American way of life, I believe it of great importance for these young people to learn firsthand the many advantages of a government such as ours."

The 1949 Austrian tour was a whopping success in the U. S. and Canada. Thirty young Austrians, backed by private subscription at home, came here to present Austrian folk dances and songs and were acclaimed wherever they appeared.

Diplomatic Pouch

High Commissioner John McCloy has called Washington asking for more troops to put down expected Communist riots within the next three weeks. McCloy reports communists are slipping across the border from the east by the scores to stir up strife in part of a Communist drive for a united Germany—under the Red umbrella. Ambassador George Allen is sending urgent cables from Belgium that Tito, who dared defy Stalin, will be in serious trouble. Yugoslavia gets grain. Droughts cut Yugoslavia's crop 40 per cent. The American Embassy in Cairo has informed the State Department that King Farouk's life is beginning to catch up with him. Farouk's blood pressure is reported high and his doctors are pleading with him to stop his night-club excursions. Neutral Switzerland is no longer a secret repository for hidden money. European millionaires, afraid the Red Army will overrun even Switzerland, have been shipping their money to Uruguay and Mexico. (Copyright, 1950, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Question Is Whether Labor Unions Will Take Control of Democratic Party in Election

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 30. More significant than any other factor arising out of the Congressional elections on November 7 will be the effect on the future of the Democratic Party.

Will the Democratic Party, as it has been known for decades, become in everything except name the party of a labor-union machine? Through virtually complete control of billions of dollars of union dues, a few labor-union leaders could take over the Democratic Party lock, stock and barrel and dictate who shall be its candidates hereafter.

This could not possibly happen if independent votes are cast by lifelong Democrats who cherish the memory of a great party founded by Jefferson and strengthened by Woodrow Wilson and Franklin Roosevelt.

It could not happen if the independent Democrats differentiate between truly capable candidates and those who merely have the endorsement of a labor-union clique.

If the labor union bosses have their way and a majority of their candidates are elected this time to either the House or the Senate, the real Democratic Party will develop a cleavage such as it never has experienced since Civil War days. Many of the independent Democrats do not want to see in Washington a labor-union government, dominated by the "left wing" as is the case with Great Britain today. They do not want to see a reactionary regime established which under the guise of so-called liberalism can effectuate a result hostile to smaller enterprises and individual freedom inside labor unions.

But the independent Democrats will be powerless after November 7 if the party machinery passes into new hands.

The issue of bossism, hitherto confined to city machines, now becomes pertinent as labor unions reveal that their political organizations are equipped to control the states of the rank and file in political elections. While for many years labor unions have engaged in politics, there has never been such a brazen attempt to control the rank and file and make the vote for particular candidates who have sold their independence to labor-union chiefs for a mess of pottage in the form of public endorsements.

The danger in the possible capture of the machinery of the party is that it will be used to further the aims of labor unions, now plainly involved. It has always been apparent that a determined minority with plenty of funds could take over a major political party and gradually force its previous leaders to take a seat on the side lines. If the candidates backed by the labor-union party do come out victorious this November, the Democratic party will pass into the hands of a new set of managers. The answer lies with the independent Democrats.

New York Oct. 29 Inquiries

further into the murky affairs of that secretive organization called the Society for the Prevention of World War 3 came into possession of a strange colloquy by Prof. Mark Van Doren, who teaches English at Columbia University, and John Shine, a reporter for the New York Journal-American.

Mr. Shine is a truthful man. You may form your own opinion as to whether Van Doren is truthful, or just the incarnation of all the Joe Millers who ever heard about the absent-minded professor. His reputation for wisdom may be exaggerated, but it seems safe to say that he is not a stupid or feeble man. He is old Mr. Shine that he, the chairman of the board of the Society for the Prevention of World War 3, did not even know whether the society had a constitution. Nor when he indicated he wasn't quite sure whether there was an existence of a list of its members.

For who has the custody of that list, it is one of those arrogant characters who, ever since the second world war ended, have been showing good Americans around for opposing the Morgenthau plan or variations of it. The most important single article of the Morgenthau plan, which is attributed by some authorities to the late Harry Dexter White, mentioned in official testimony as one of the Communist spies in our government, is the sleeper in the next-to-last paragraph. It provides that "the primary responsibility for the poisoning of Germany and for civil administration in Germany should be assumed by the military forces of Germany's CONTINENTAL."

So They Say... Questions — Answers

The UN will steadily grow in strength and capacity to fulfill its eternal function... the preservation of international peace and security.

Our policy of democratic socialism is the only democratic alternative to totalitarian communism. It's the only way we can get peace and social justice.

The United States has the best medical system in the world. We should try to improve this system instead of throwing it away and adopting a system that has not worked anywhere else in the world.

So what if Al Jolson did beat me to Korea by a few days? Ago before beauty.

The disruptive policies of Moscow and its satellites follow from the declared principles of atheistic communism. They are the enemies of all who do not share their political creed; and their atheism lends them to use any means to attain their end.

—Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, archbishop of Canterbury.

NEIGHBORS

"Specifically," it says, "these should include Russian, French, Polish, Czech, Yugoslav, Norwegian, Dutch and Belgian soldiers."

In other words, Henry Morgenthau proposed that the United States and Britain put out and suppress Germany to Russia. Then the Iron Curtain could be dropped along the channel and the Pyrenees.

It is a well-known fact that Isadore Lipschutz, the big-man who has financed the non-sectarian anti-Nazi league with its private postage of cheap, unsavory pamphlets, is one of the organizers who led the Society for the Prevention of World War 3. Lipschutz fled to this country from Belgium to escape the kind of espionage which several of the league's members have been practicing in the United States, and to enjoy the right to disagree with anyone, subject to neither physical persecution nor muzzlement by any silent terror.

Mr. Shine's written report to the Journal-American city desk says:

"The following colloquy took place at noon yesterday, Oct. 16, in Prof. Mark Van Doren's office in Hamilton Hall, Columbia University."

Q. Prof. Van Doren, you are the chairman of the board of directors of the Society for the Prevention of World War 3?

A. I am.

Q. How did you become interested in this organization?

A. Rev. and first brought it to my attention.

Q. When was that?

A. Sometime in 1944 or 1945 I am not just sure.

Q. From whom does this or of Germany's CONTINENTAL.

Q. What is a "term policy" in life insurance?

A. It provides benefit payments for dependents in case the insured person dies within the time specified in the contract.

Q. Is Theodore Dreiser's "An American Tragedy" entire fictional?

A. No, it was based on the records of a real case.

Q. Has the daily food consumption in England returned to its prewar level?

A. Almost. In 1949, the average daily food consumption per person rose to 2,900 calories, slightly below the prewar figure of 3,000 calories a day.

Q. Are women eligible to become professional jockeys?

A. There are several professional women jockeys riding at present.

Q. What is "Dixieland" jazz?

A. Music, played by a small band dominated by trumpet, trombone, clarinet and drums, playing in a fast, hot rhythm. Its chief characteristic is the musicians' spontaneous improvisations, played simultaneously but in harmony.

According to Hoyle

By FRANK TRIPP

Edmund Hoyle has long since passed on to the eternal tournament. I wonder what he would think of his card games as now played. He wouldn't recognize poker, nor today's bridge, though he was the first to frame the laws of whist.

"According to Hoyle" once was a phrase of almost everybody's vocabulary. Folks used it who never knew that back in 1742 Hoyle wrote the book for all card games. They only knew that what was right was according to Hoyle and everything that was wrong was not.

Mr. Hoyle made the poker world believe for a long time that a royal flush took the works. He never heard of five aces in one hand and four in another unless there also was a sixth aces on the table and a corpse under it.

He didn't invent the rule that in case four royal flushes turn up in one deal you don't shoot anybody, just split the pot. It was a royal shock up more than once to an evening in Mr. Hoyle's day, folks brought their own decks the next time they played with that crowd.

Four deuces, two jokers and the one-eyed jacks weren't wild, neither were the players. It also was generally recognized that five cards were all that an honest man could expect and if the game was, stand one card was plenty to count.

But Mr. Hoyle was too conservative for the boys who wasted action. The lid came off and even state in the Union has a serious poker game named after it. As you wonder around today the only thing that's familiar is the cheap skate who gets way ahead and leaves early.

THEN THERE'S contract. Mr. Hoyle's whist grown up grown up so far that it's no longer a game of cards. It's a war of nerves for chairpersons and southsayers; a retreat for bored married couples who can't bear to be alone with each other.

A fellow who can lick the stuffing out of a whole bridge club at playing the cards and getting tricks hasn't a chance to play a hand before he can get to play a hand the technicians have talked things over in a sort of bog Latin that he doesn't understand, and trump is declared by a sour-pussed dame whose partner has told her every card in his hand—by a roundabout system of legalized espionage.

Of course, if the sucker had any sense he'd be down at the Hunkytunk playing the slot machines. They seldom caught up, but they don't talk back. Once a week, to keep peace in the family, the poor guy goes out and plays bridge. Only to learn when he gets home that that's no way to preserve peace. There should be a law against mixed bridge clubs.

And there should be one place in every town where husbands who don't know the bidding rules could go after every bridge session, get a Turkish bath, four double scotches and sleep till the next noon. Employers should recognize the occasion as warranting a morning off, in the interest of the health and sanity of their organizations.

THIS GRIFF also could deal of some length and deep feeling with what's happened to the once relaxing game of rummy. That was one game which required neither an Oxford degree nor Houdini's sorcery. It was just a nice, simple little card matching pastime, like Old Maid used to be. Then there got to be as many kinds of rummy as there are weird brands of poker.

Just when North American rummy addicts had begun to agree on ground rules for pin, Liverpool, Oklahoma and a dozen more kinds of rummy, up from south of the border comes canasta.

That sure is one that Mr. Hoyle never thought of. He couldn't possibly, because he lived to be 97 and nobody who plays canasta can last that long. The game is well named, though. A canasta is a basket. A basket is a receiver. A receiver takes your dough. Or if you'd prefer a good old American name, how about "That's It!"

We sure need Mr. Hoyle far more than he was needed in the 18th Century. It's getting so it isn't safe to claim knowledge of any card game, when you're farther away from home than one city block.

Lehman Declares Lip Service Paid

New York, Oct. 30 (AP) — Sen. Herbert H. Lehman campaigning for reelection, told a Negro audience yesterday that the Republicans helped Southern Democrats talk civil rights legislation to death.

"Southern Democratic senators have used the filibuster with the consent and permission of the Republican leaders in the senate," said Lehman, Democratic-Liberal nominee.

He said the G.O.P. high command paid lip service to overcoming the Southern filibuster, but that on the floor of the senate, "where it counts the most, they have actually fought for it."

Lehman told the Harlem rally that while he fought for civil rights "you have done the suffering."

Lehman also said he had worked for a strict rent control bill that would have rolled back rents to a maximum of 15 per cent over the March 1949 level and prevented evictions on pretext of commercial need.

To an earlier Puerto Rican rally, Lehman promised he would work for admission of Puerto Rico as a state under a constitution of its own devising.

Magazine to Publish Problem in Geometry

Michael Schwartz, a former resident of Vienna, Austria, who now makes his home with his wife at 6 Hudson street, has received word that his basic problem in geometric construction will be published in a future edition of the School Science and Mathematics booklet.

The announcement reached Schwartz from G. H. Jamison of the State Teachers College at Kirtsville, Mo.

According to Schwartz, who came to this country in March 1939, he started his basic problem when a youngster in Vienna.

"My professor at that time didn't give me any inclination that it was an unusual problem," Schwartz said and "I didn't finish it until I lived in the United States for several years."

The problem, according to the Hudson street man, is a basic problem showing new means how to divide the sides of triangles into three even parts.

Schwartz made his home with his son, Dr. Paul Schwartz, who was a professor of music at Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson, from 1937 until 1947. He came to Kingston in 1947 after his son had accepted the post as music director at Kenyon College in Ohio.

His problem will be listed in the monthly booklet as Problem 2203. The booklet is published by the Central Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers, Inc.

Goes on Gold Standard

Warsaw, Oct. 30 (AP) — Poland's currency, the Zloty, has joined the Russian ruble on the gold standard, and at 100 times its former value. A week-end action by the Polish Parliament (S.E.J.M.) set the Zloty's value at 0.222168 grams of pure gold on a par with the ruble and increased the Zloty's value in U. S. currency from 0.0025 dollars to 25 cents.

Finance Minister Konstanty Dabrowski told Parliament the action would give Polish money value in capitalist and other countries, where previously it has been valueless, and would aid in fighting the black market and speculation.

Russia adopted the gold standard and the 25-cent value for its ruble last February. Previously the ruble had been rated at a little less than 19 cents.

Q. Do you maintain a list of the membership?

A. There must be a list of the members.

Q. In whose physical possession is the membership list?

A. I don't know.

Q. Has the organization a constitution?

Q. Getting back to the financial question again, professor, what method or procedure does the organization pursue to reach prospective contributors?

A. That I don't know.

Q. What are the purposes or aims of your organization?

A. We are opposed to starting World War 3. If World War 3 started it would be the result of German treachery and propaganda.

Q. Have you any other aims?

A. To prevent World War 3.

Q. At this point the professor stood up and walked to the door of his office, indicating to me that the interview was over.

Laboratory Staff Honors Dr. Taylor

The members of the staff of the Kingston City Laboratory together with the staff of the Tumor Clinic tendered an impromptu Halloween buffet luncheon Thursday noon in honor of Dr. Taylor as an expression of their high regard for him and their sincere regret at his leaving Kingston and the directorship of the laboratory. They invited Dr. Seydel, for fifteen years, president of the Laboratory Board, Dr. Seely, secretary of the board, together with Dr. Elizabeth Moore and Mrs. Margaret Van Wagoner, executive director of the Ulster County Cancer Society to be their guests. There were 39 present.

After serving a delicious luncheon prepared by the combined staffs of the Laboratory and Tumor Clinic, Mr. Lee Herrington, senior member of the staff spoke most feelingly of the great affection and high regard which every member of the staff has for Dr. Taylor, both personally and professionally and on behalf of the staff presented to Dr. and Mrs. Taylor a Trailer Canopy Type Avion for their new and luxurious trailer which they will make their temporary home as they make an extensive tour of the country.

Mr. Lyons of the staff asked that a committee be appointed to prepare a suitable resolution on Dr. Taylor's leaving to be published in the Kingston Daily Freeman and a copy sent to Dr. Taylor. Mr. Lyons appointed as such a committee, Dr. Seely.

Vincent Meleski and Morris Nussbaum. In response to this action the committee would record the unanimous feeling of regret that Dr. Taylor feels he must lay aside the work of directorship of the laboratory for a respite from overwhelmingly taxing service—a work that has made the Kingston City Laboratory one of the most outstanding laboratories in the state.

In the 18 years that Dr. Taylor and his beloved wife Dr. Elizabeth Moore have been in our city they have won the confidence and regard of the medical profession and feel keenly that in the leaving of Dr. and Mrs. Taylor, they have lost not only a great physician and outstanding pathologist, but devoted friends—the charm of whose personality and the skill of whose professional service have enriched the city and county beyond estimate. They have given unstintingly of their fine minds and sacrificial spirit to the support of every worthy cause. Time will never erase the memory of their magnificent service in our beloved city and charming personality and unswerving loyalty. The city and county will be vastly poorer for their leaving and they will carry away with them the love and respect of all who were interested in public health and the sincere hope that some day very soon they will find their way back to Kingston to enrich us again with their skilled service in their chosen profession.

It is further resolved, that this word of appreciation be printed in the public press and a copy sent to Dr. Taylor.

Signed,
F. B. SEELEY,
MORRIS NUSSBAUM,
VINCENT MELESKI.

First Natural Gas Bill
7 Schryver Court
Kingston, N. Y.
Oct. 25th, 1950.

Editor, The Freeman

A few months ago there appeared frequent full page announcements in the "Freeman" by the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., reminding us that "NATURAL GAS WILL SOON BE HERE." "NATURAL GAS IS COMING," etc., and implying that we should all rejoice in the fact that the company was about to confer a great favor upon the community and the consumers. Everyone was urged to "Hurry—Hurry—Hurry" and get their applications in with their heating contractors so they could be sure of having their heating plants converted to its use before the rush, also the public was urged to buy new gas ranges, hot water heaters and other appliances so that all might enjoy the use of this new, better, hotter and cheaper fuel.

Today we are in receipt of our first gas bill covering use of natural gas. This bill is for the two month period ending Oct. 16 and the split occurs Sept. 12 between the old and new gas so that as explained on the bill there was 9/10 of a month at old rate and 1 1/10 month at new rate.

We used 16 units of gas at old rate, net charge being $3.41; we used 10 units of gas at new rate, net charge being $3.77; total for period, $7.18.

It is a coincidence that for the same period last year we used exactly the same amount of gas, namely 26 units for which we were charged $5.80.

We are therefore charged $1.38 more this year for the same amount of gas, and if the entire period this year had been at the new rate it is probable that the total charge would have been $9.80 or an increase of $4. This, I think anyone will agree is quite a healthy increase.

There is no question of the great advantage to the company in being able to eliminate the expensive process of manufacturing artificial gas and the necessity of maintaining large reserves of coal and other supplies and having only to regulate the flow of this natural fuel through the pipe lines. And it is not reasonable to suppose that they would go to the great expense of laying pipe lines and converting customers' appliances to use the new gas if they were going to pay more for it than it cost them to make the artificial.

But what is there for us the consumers to clap hands and shout for joy about because "NATURAL GAS IS HERE." We were having no trouble with the manufactured gas, our stove was working nicely and after being adjusted is now working the same as before and it looks as though we were going to pay through the nose for the wonderful new fuel. Looks to me like just another rooking for the consumers.

'Messiah' Chorus

Needs More Voices

A rehearsal for Handel's oratorio, the "Messiah" will be held once again this evening at the First Dutch Church at 7:30. Donald Romme, minister of music, announced today. Rehearsals will be held each week at the same time until the mixed chorus is ready to give its pre-Christmas presentation.

Enthusiasm filled the First Dutch Church last week when rehearsals began in earnest. More voices are needed, however. Mr. Romme announced, particularly male voices.

"I'd like at least 30 more persons to do the piece justice," Mr. Romme explained, "although if 40 or 50 more should appear, why that would be grand."

All those in the community are urged to attend tonight's rehearsal. This year the Messiah will be a community project, and will not be sponsored by any one organization.

There's Turkey for Everybody By GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Staff Writer

There's bountiful festive eating ahead in November, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture report on plentiful foods.

There'll be more than enough turkey to go around, since a record crop of the big birds is in prospect. And right along with turkey, cranberries are featured too; so are apples.

Reappearing on the plentiful list after a long absence is pork. With heavy fall marketings in prospect, it's expected that pork and pork products will be abundant, and priced somewhat below recent levels.

Other poultry items will be plentiful, in addition to turkey. Broilers and fryers from specialized production areas will move to market in volume, and hens for stewing and fricasseeing will continue in heavy supply. Eggs also continue on the plentiful list.

Still reflecting the summer's heavy milk output, such dairy products as cheese, butter, and cottage cheese will be available at all markets.

Above average yields of cabbage together with moderate acreage increases, makes this vegetable one of the outstanding health buys of the fall season. The November list also includes carrots, onions, and both white and sweet potatoes.

Honey is the final item on the November plentiful list. Here is the complete list of plentiful foods for November, 1950:

Fruits and Vegetables: Apples, cranberries, cabbage, carrots, onions, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes.

Meats, Poultry: Pork, turkeys, broilers and fryers, hens, eggs.

Dairy: Other: Cheese, cottage cheese, butter, honey.

There are lots of oysters in season, too. So if you like oysters, enjoy this wonderfully simple treat.

Pan-Broiled Oysters With Bacon Twenty-four oysters, 12 slices bacon, 8 pieces toast.

Drain and dry oysters. Wrap each oyster in half a slice of bacon and fasten the end together with a toothpick. Brown very quickly on all sides in a hot frying pan. Arrange three oysters on each piece of toast. Pour a little of the liquid over the toast and serve immediately.

TOMORROW'S MENU BREAKFAST: Applesauce or apple juice, bacon and eggs, enriched toast, butter of fortified margarine.

LUNCHEON: Split pea soup, crackers, cottage cheese-fresh fruit salad, French dressing, split and toasted rolls, butter or fortified margarine, frosted honey cup cakes, tea.

DINNER: Sautéed pork chops, mustard, cream gravy, mashed potatoes, buttered cabbage, raw cranberry and orange relish, rye bread, butter or fortified margarine, fresh fruit bowl, assorted cheeses, crackers, coffee, milk.

Snyder Speaks On UN Banner At Philadelphia

At the Spirit of '76 dinner held last week in Philadelphia, Frederic Snyder, local lecturer and news analyst, was the principal speaker, having as his topic the U.N. Flag.

Newspaper accounts of his address before the audience of Army and Navy officers in part were as follows:

Reaction to the use of the U.N. banner, United Nations Day Oct. 24 indicates many confusions. Sharp resolutions by the National Guard Assn., the Defense Council and other groups provided added evidence that many do not correctly understand the right place of the national and global banners.

Mr. Snyder maintained that the U.N. was little helped by the unregulated use of their official flag. His original concept was to have the flag made the official property of the city. To be available on loan for a worthy purpose. He contended that one flag would not properly every purpose. Persons and organizations might use to advantage the miniature flags. For official use out of doors the one official flag should prevail.

It should be emphasized that the U.N. flag stands for humanity. One's national banner stands for a nationality. The U.N. flag represents the universal flag. The flags of the U.N. members, representing stars set in this sky. The U.N. flag should never be flown above the U. S. flag nor on a staff with it. It should have its own staff.

In the sky, stars big and little get on in harmony. America is a giant star, set in the sky of history. No wise American wishes to see the U. S. flag flying above every other flag but rather with every other flag in the forward march of civilization.

We owe nothing to the selfish. Either selfish persons or selfish nations. We must keep a fervent loyalty to our Country and an ardent loyalty to humanity. The Prince of Peace never commanded anyone to love his country. His directive was to "love your neighbor." The member nations in the UN are our neighbors. We will either see God's best world or man's worst world. The UN is a method and not a thing. It is an aspiration. It is an effort to both use and to be used for the law of the law. We are bound by law to be loyal to the United Nations. Some of these resolutions impact the signature of the United Nations.

We must realize that all children are on child. Just as we move swiftly to defend or save a baby, we must move as quickly to save an infant state like Korea. The UN is a haven for the weak. It provides an opportunity for the strong to earn a blessing in the defense of the weak.

The UN flag should be under official control. By city officials and other competent authority. A badge of welcome should be created for special use in this the best nation.

In any event moderation is needed. The resolutions have been interpreted and it advised.

Time devotion to God, makes one feel great. One must be fairly. Thoughtful appreciation of the United Nations will make any citizen of better service to his country.

The carnival of reading and displaying the UN flag should end at once. Many have eagles as ornaments. The UN officials admitted to me that they did not make any provision for ornamenting the staffs. We must change the confusion to a lack of experience in such matters. Also to a complete void in the realm of guidance and leadership from official powers in Washington.

Victory Is Predicted New York, Oct. 30—Vice President Alben W. Barkley, nearing the end of a 13,000-mile Democratic barnstorming tour, swung through New York State Saturday and predicted a mid-term national election victory for his party. Barkley spoke both in Rochester and New York City, denouncing the Republican party in both speeches and praising Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, the Democratic liberal candidate for reelection as one of the Senate's outstanding members.

Leaves for Rome New York, Oct. 30—Sen. Francis B. Spongberg left for Rome Saturday last night for a 10-day tour. He will attend the Consistory of Cardinals for the proclamation of the dogma of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin. He will return Saturday. Another passenger was Henry Luce, editor-in-chief of Life, Time, and Fortune magazines.

Hanley Points Out Need of Loan to Israel to Aid East

New York, Oct. 30—U. S. Sen. Joe R. Hanley, Republican of Connecticut, said today that the United States would like to see the country make a substantial loan to Israel. "The economic well-being of the Near East," he declared, "is a matter of vital importance to the United States."

Six Sectional Leaders Dominate Collegiate Football Season

Ohio State Moves Into Select Company

By WILL GRIMSLEY
New York, Oct. 30 (AP)—Such a put in any section of the college football map today and you come up with a stout contender for national honors.

It's been a dizzy season, with upsets a dime a dozen, but never in recent history have the gridiron games been so considerable about equal distribution of wealth.

Here are the country's top teams, their sections and records.

SO. DIVISION
Southern Methodist (5-0)
MIDLANDS Oklahoma (5-0)
SOUTHEAST Kentucky (7-0)
PACIFIC WEST California (6-0)
MIDWEST Ohio State (4-1)
For documentary purposes, that's also the exact order of the Associated Press poll, with each of the six teams amassing more than 1,000 points.

Buckeyes Holding
Of these, only Ohio State has been here. The Buckeyes dropped a 35-27 last game decision to top-ranked SMU in the opening game of the season.

Most of the 82,174 fans who saw the Buckeyes crush Iowa, 38-24, in Columbus Saturday, probably doubt that the Mustangs from the southwest could do the job again. The Rose Bowl champions certainly looked the equal if not the superior of any team in the nation in staging that savage touchdown binge.

So in each of the major football games, you can get a heated argument that the particular section has the best grid machine in the land, with no way actually to prove it since none of the other schedules cross.

So it becomes a matter of sitting tight and waiting for the odds to tumble. That could start happening this week with five of the six top drawer clubs facing sneaky opposition.

Summers Safe
Only Oklahoma's Sooner, who led the modern winning streak of 26 games Saturday by humbling Iowa State 20-7, have it easy. They play Colorado at Boulder.

Southern Methodist, idle the past week, will go to Austin to tackle a big, resourceful Texas team that has lost only to Oklahoma and is rated seventh best in the nation. The Longhorns warmed up for the occasion by smothering Rice, the Southwest Conference champion, 57-7.

Army's a factor who have won every game with at least three touchdowns to spare, go against the biggest hump of a relatively easy schedule when they collide with Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

Penn has won four of its five games. Navy was the victim Saturday, 36-7. Army faced with Columbia, 34-0.

Bear Bryant's Kentucky Wildcats will be host to Florida, the high-scoring Dixie darlings that upset unbeaten Vanderbilt a week ago.

Babe Parilli, a T-muscleman, passed and dictated the Wildcats' 28-14 victory over Georgia Tech—Kentucky's seventh in a row. Florida won its fifth game by trouncing Furman, 19-7.

On the Pacific coast, California's Bears took their big challenge of the year in the powerful Washington Huskies, who have lost only to Illinois in six games.

The Huskies smashed Stanford, 21-7, while the Bears were winning No. 6 at the expense of St. Mary's, 40-25.

Ohio State's next assignment is Northwestern, unbeaten until Wisconsin rallied to win Saturday, 14-13.

Rickey Confers With Bill DeWitt

St. Louis, Oct. 30 (AP)—Branch Rickey, currently without a baseball home, was here today for a meeting with St. Louis Browns President Bill DeWitt.

There was considerable speculation as to whether Rickey's visit to the Browns' front office will culminate in just a social call or whether it means the American League baseball club is in Rickey's future.

There have been rumors that the former Brooklyn Dodger head man might move into the Browns' organization, but they have been denied by DeWitt and disclaimed by Rickey.

Rickey also plans to see Owner Fred Schatz of the St. Louis Cardinals but this has been labeled as "not on business."

The most persistent rumors have Rickey going into the Pittsburgh Pirates organization in some capacity, but baseball fans in St. Louis are keeping an eye on the Rickey-DeWitt conference today all the same.

Ye Olde Maroons Doing Well

Three college football teams featuring former K.H.S. gridiron stars remained undefeated Saturday.

The No. 1 squad, of course, was Army, 34-0 victor over Columbia. Big Ed Weaver again had a starting role at right end for the Cadets. He caught several passes thrown by Earl Bluff, one of which set up an Army TD march on the 17-yard line. Weaver was shown throwing a key block in one photo of a TD run by Ballard.

Bill Kistner's undefeated Lehigh team scored a surprise 21-18 victory over highly favored Rutgers. It was the sixth straight win for Lehigh which must now beat Mullenberg, Carnegie Tech and Lafayette to finish the season undefeated.

St. Lawrence, where Mike Rizzo holds fourth, romped over Clarkson, 32-0 for its sixth straight win without a loss. Alfred and Rochester, two rugged opponents, remain on the St. Lawrence slate.

Frank "Roots" Leskie powered 551 and Bill Lawrence had 203-552.

Bechtold had 541; H. Schussler 525, E. McLaughlin 502, Richard Howard 496, Sue Jellins 489, Ada Markie 483, Johnny 484 (111).

Harry Kaprellian rolled the best of three 500 series in the Bowldrome Mixed League, with 176-184-179-539. P. DeWitt's 517 and Charlie Herne's 504 were other select scores. B. Smith had 202-499; C. Backman 497; Paul Khoeledun 498, B. Johnson 493, Bill Schabert 486, C. Studi 480, A. Fitzpatrick 480.

SPORTS

Monday Morning Query: Didn't you think it was about time Branch Rickey took the blanket off Kevin "Chuck" Connors, wartime darling of the Kingston bobby soxers. Connors, relegated to the role of camp jester at the annual spring training jaunts of the Dodgers by Rickey's flesh and dollar policy, has been a major leaguer for the past three years at Montreal. He finally gets a chance with the Chicago Cubs. Connors is living with his wife's folks in Montreal and greeted the news of his sale to the Cubs as "terrific." To which Nick Kaslich adds a fervent amen!

Flotsam and Jetsam:
With Art Houtteman, Mickey McDermott, Eddie Ford, and Curt Simmons responding to draft calls, the Army is assured of good pitching at least. Isn't Lee Jacobson just about the best placement pitcher Bill Burke has had since his arrival at Burke Hall? Curt, lamenting the Sox's loss to Kingston as a "disaster," said "the better team lost" puns horribly that N.F.A. will find the Maroon not turkey but a Legion on Turkey Day. Leghorn being the expert place kicker for the Academy. It is just a matter of record, however, that not even Automatic Jack Mander, Lou Groza or Nate Johnson could have gotten the ticks away against the Maroon here a couple of weeks ago, the Kingston line was charging that hard. Al Owen, the former N.Y. York Giant halfback who operates Schenectady's on-o-w asked deviously after the giant conquest of Brown and personal humiliation of Otto Graham: "What does Mr. Bluff think about the pros rushing the passer now?"

Correction: It was Russ Cunningham and not Bill Burke who, during the heated N.F.A.-Kingston action, asked the referee how the family was getting along. Following which Kingston was plastered with a 35-yard penalty.

The Tenth Frame:
Big Hank Kayendall, the Ellenville bowling ace, recently shot 710 for a new all-time triple record for the Ellenville Major. It was his first "700", achieved on games of 254, 217 and 245. Big Hank carries a 193 average in the Ellenville loop. What, if anything, are the proposed Angie Ferraro vs. Larry Weiskamp and Angie Ferraro vs. Ken Joseph matches going to prove? It is the studied opinion of this observer that there is absolutely no justification for such matches, particularly when bowlers who frequently appear on the same squads and in friendly competition against each other. More than often, they are the fabrications of witch hunters who have more idle time on their hands than they should. It is a matter of record, too, the entire purpose of stakes are seldom posted by the individuals themselves and these overhyped sharpies are bowling with somebody else's dough, and, again, we repeat, to prove absolutely nothing. For a long time, in our mind, we have classified the top draw bowlers in the city in two classes: 1. Johnny Ferraro, 2. A half dozen others you can pick at random. If there are those who have delusions of grandeur, let them challenge Ferraro to a 10 or 80-game test. Anything else, phooey!

Big Time Baseball Selects One:
Big Time Baseball asked 156 sportswriters, 26 sports figures, 28 public figures, including 12 governors, and 22 stage, radio and literary personalities to select an all-time baseball team. This is what they came up with:
Pitcher: Walter Johnson; catcher: Bill Dickey; first base: Lou Gehrig; second base: Rogers Hornsby; third base: Pie Traynor; shortstop: Hans Wagner; outfielders: Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb and Joe Muroggo. Time out while the Ted Williams rosters enjoy a slow burn!

After 50 years as manager of the A's, Connie Mack retired. Always knew he was a flash in the pan!

Snead Favored In North-South

Pinehurst, N. C., Oct. 30 (AP)—One hundred and thirty-five golfers pitted their skill against a demanding 6,622-yard championship course in today's qualifying round for the 48th North and South Open golf tournament.

With the field of non-invited players so large, tournament officials increased from 30 to 50 the number of places in the tournament proper starting tomorrow.

The low 50 today will join a select group of 65 others who need not qualify. A four over par 76 is figured good enough to make the qualifying grade.

Four 18-hole rounds in as many days will decide the $7,500 event, already installed as favorite is Sam Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., top money maker who a year ago posted a winning 274, only three strokes over the event record.

Car Designer Killed
Fresno, Calif., Oct. 30 (AP)—William C. (Bud) Winfield, 46, designer of the Novi special racing automobile that thrilled crowds at Indianapolis Speedway, was killed in a highway collision last night.

Versatile Material
Coal tar, which, for a hundred years, was a waste product or found limited use as a roofing material, has become the most versatile raw material of modern chemistry.

Hooker, McGarrity Score 33 Points

Wiltwycks, Elstons Win In Y League

Leroy Hooker, who is counted on to furnish plenty of points for the 1950-51 KHS basketball variety and Hugh McGarrity, a newcomer to Y circles, scored 33 points apiece in the Saturday night slugging at the Broadway court.

McGarrity's harvest led Wiltwycks Motors to a stunning 94-68 victory over Harry's Angels and enabled them to tie the Shaw's Grocery for the "A" league lead.

Hooker unloaded for Elstons in their 77-56 conquest of the Yellow Jackets. Hooker pumped in 18 ducats and conversion, while McGarrity hit 13 times from the floor and had seven fouls.

The Motormen routed the Angels with a 33-4 bulge in the second period that put them ahead 30-27 at the half. Eric Goetzke and Ward Dunham reeled off 45 points between them for the Angels.

Trippuca Collapses After Cardinal Win

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP)—Quarterback Frank Trippuca of the Chicago Cardinals was to have an X-ray examination today of a head injury suffered in the Cardinals' 17-3 National Football League upset of the New York Giants yesterday.

Trippuca collapsed after walking off the field at Comiskey Park. An inhalator squad administered oxygen and he was rushed to St. Bernard's Hospital. His injury was described as a concussion, but he was reported in good condition.

Trippuca, in 1948, was severely hurt while playing for Notre Dame against Southern California. He suffered three fractured vertebrae and two chip fractures of the vertebrae.

If Kingston High is to win the 1950 DUSO football pennant, it will have to do the job alone on Thanksgiving Day against Newburgh Free Academy right in the Goldbacks' own back yard.

This became evident Saturday when the Academy romped over a high school Middletown team, 19-6, in Newburgh.

N.F.A. had eked out a 6-0 victory in the first meeting between the teams.

If Kingston gets by Middletown on Nov. 11, the showdown will come in the traditional Thanksgiving Day encounter. As during that S.F.A. gets by Port Jervis and does anybody in the hope have any doubts about that one? the Maroon will have to beat N.F.A. to gain outright possession of the title. If they lose, the two teams share the title.

Newburgh's aerial arm, which kept K.H.S. in a rather uncomfortable two-way tie, Saturday, Sam Leghorn passed five yards to Stillstone to climax a 65-yard drive in the first quarter.

Richie Spear completed a sensational 35-yard aerial to Bill Laurin in the end zone for the second TD, while Leghorn paced 19 yards with an intercepted pass for the final Newburgh tally.

Middletown moved 20 yards for its lone score after Dave Moore recovered a Newburgh fumble on the 20. Gene Currier circled right end for 10 yards for the score.

Shutout Bid Is Often Risky Business

By OSWALD JACOBY
 Written for NEA Service

"Please comment on the bidding of this hand," requests a Detroit reader. "It has caused quite a stir in our club, and we'd like to set our hands at rest."

"They lay was not without interest. West opened the diamonds and ruffed the third round of that suit with the three of spades. He then led the ten of clubs, and East took the top club and continued with a third club. South ruffed with the jack of spades, and West was clever enough to discard instead of overruffing."

"Now West was bound to get three more trump tricks. He took the first trump with the ace, allowed South to win the ten of trumps, and then had the queen-eleven over South's nine. West would have made one trick less, of course, if he had over-ruffed on the third round of clubs. As it was, the contract was set four tricks!"

"South said he had made a normal shutout bid. You can imagine what North said—and this particular North player is very good at saying that sort of thing! However, several other players in our club have sympathized with South and have said that they might have had three spades if they had held his hand."

"Will you explain the merits, if any, of such a shutout bid? Would an expert bid three spades on the South hand?"

If an expert bid three spades on the South hand, he wouldn't be an expert. His partner would trade him to the bush leagues for three cents in cash or any other reasonable offer.

The time to make a shutout bid is when the opponents may otherwise reach a profitable contract. If you don't bid to make a dangerous bid (and most shutouts are at least slightly dangerous) when you have reason to believe that the opponents have no game and may even be headed for trouble if left to their own devices.

When your partner opens the bidding, there is a strong presumption that the opponents cannot make game in minor suit. This is even stronger presumption when you are short in your partner's suit, because then he will probably be able to make his high cards in his own suit.

In this case, South had defense against the most serious bid in the game of his high diamonds—in addition to the normal defense that he could expect because of his partner's opening bid. It was a cinch that the enemy couldn't make game in spades or hearts. If they could make a game in no-trump, a shutout in spades might be very dangerous. Moreover, even if East and West could make a game at no-trump, it might be impossible for them to bid it.

In other words, South had no reason to be afraid of anything his opponents might bid. There was no reason to shut them out particularly if some risk had to be taken in the process.

If South had made the normal bid of only one spade, West might have doubled, but East would probably wind up playing the hand and going down. And even if South doubled, he'd have been no better off than was actually the case.

Luanda (Portuguese Angola) (AP)—The present world situation draws increasing attention to Africa's manganese. Angola is at present stepping up its production at a tremendous pace. Manganese was first discovered there in 1916 but even today the exact extent of the colony's resources are not known completely. Two of the best known deposits at Quiluhine and Cuiter are of Lunda reserves near the surface, are estimated at 6,000 tons.
